FOREST ON BOARD

RADIUS DESIGN creates intelligent storage space

MICHAEL RÖSING, designer and head of the Brühl-based creative think-tank has always striven to develop high-quality products with flair and that certain “something”. Young, innovative design is also the mark of this elegant firewood cart characterized by the union of cutting-edge technology, immaculate appearance and sophisticated finish.

The versatile cart for in- and outdoor use is a storage genius. And it combines storing fuel for an open fire, barbecue, stove or campfire with stunning looks. When extra firewood is needed the cart is quickly to hand. The castors ensure mobility.

But that is not all. There is also an optional wooden plank that serves as a bench should additional seating be needed. MICHAEL RÖSING and Michael Schuster have also come up with another ingenious extra for their smart lifestyle product. Always alert to trends they designed the mobile firewood cart so it can stand either vertically or horizontally. In a trice the cart converts into a bistro table for your next garden party.

Stainless steel or galvanized and powder-coated steel are employed in these extraordinarily tidy-minded and hip firewood butlers – making them an absolute must-have. Indeed, the stylish allrounder will inspire you to other creative uses. Not only will it delight those that adore the fascinating play of fire it will also cut a fine figure in the bathroom or sauna area as a towel holder. Measuring 110 cm long and 41 cm wide/tall, the multi-purpose firewood cart by RADIUS DESIGN can hold a lot of fuel for those crackling moments.
